Our mission

The Parenting PATH works to prevent and treat child abuse and neglect by strengthening families, enhancing parent/child relationships, and creating safer more stable communities.

A history of caring for the community

The PATH to strengthen families was started 40+ years ago, born from the National Exchange Club's national project of child abuse. In 1981 the Stop Child Abuse Now (SCAN) project was officially started in Winston-Salem in 1981 sponsored by the local chapter of the Exchange.

As SCAN, our agency worked successfully for families in our community until 2018 when as part of an evaluation of trauma-informed best practices, the board and staff asked if Stop Child Abuse Now (SCAN) was an appropriate name for our agency. The agency applied to be a part of an Action Learning Team project through Leadership Winston-Salem. The Action Learning Team conducted research with parents, recipients of services, community members, and donors. People felt more positive, more comfortable, and less stigmatized when the name of the agency didn't specifically say "child abuse". We realized that this change would continue to support our mission to be trauma-informed!

We became The Parenting PATH: Positive Actions. Thriving Homes.

The Parenting PATH has evolved to be much more than an agency that aims to prevent child abuse and neglect. We offer an array of services for all families to promote resilience, enhance positive family dynamics, and create more stable communities with a strengths-based approach.

Another way to serve the community

In our continued commitment to serve families and as an outreach to the larger community, we are opening the Pinwheels Thrift Store and Family Center. It is our hope that this second building will host our clinical services as well as be a space that welcomes families to be clients, class/group participants, shoppers, donors, community volunteers, and more!

VOLUNTEERS

Thank you for sharing your time and talents as a volunteer with us! We love having members of our community involved with our work to help strengthen families. Volunteers are critical to our success and are essential to the agency's operations!

The Parenting PATH prohibits the use, possession, sale, or trade of illicit drugs, other controlled substances, alcohol, and use of any tobacco products and e-cigarettes in the workplace, which includes any place where employees and or volunteers are representing or conducting business for the organization. Equal Opportunity Policy

- Volunteers have the right to be treated fairly. To be free from discrimination, harassment, intimidation, bullying, or coercion. The Parenting PATH will not tolerate sexual harassment by any personnel. If it is a significant offense, it can result in the termination or the discontinuation of the volunteer.
- We will strive to find an assignment based on your interests, skills, availability, and needs. We will allow you to work as part of a team, contribute to the welfare of the community and the organization, and be recognized for your contribution. We will treat you as a fellow team member who contributes to our goals through your volunteer work.

Reporting Suspected Abuse and Neglect

- The words “abuse” and “neglect” are often used interchangeably, each type of maltreatment is distinct. Abuse is the intention of maltreatment of a child and can be physical, sexual, or emotional. Neglect, on the other hand, is the failure to give children the necessary care they need.

- If you suspect that a child is being abused or neglected, or if you think a child may have died from being mistreated, you must report what you know to the county Department of Social Services. This is the law. Don't be afraid to report.

I have read The Parenting PATH policy on confidentiality and the Statement of Confidentiality presented above. I agree to abide by the requirements of the policy and inform my supervisor immediately if I believe any violation (unintentional or otherwise) of the policy has occurred.
